

Riding from New York City to San Francisco

An Austrian bicyclist who is making a transcontinental ride across the United States, made a stop in Van Buren County last week. Martin Tscherner, Innsbruck, started at JFK Airport in New York City and will end his ride at the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco. He is riding approximately 90 miles per day and he is striving to break a previous record of 55 days. Martin states that at this time he is one day ahead of the destination points on his planned journey. He was in Keosauqua Thursday. REGISTER PHOTO BY PATRICIA COFFIN.
